NEWARK RESIDENT COMMITTS SUICIDE AT DETROIT, MICH.

Elmer Davidson Fires Bullet Into His Head at Rooming House and Body Was Discovered by Landlady

WAS EMPLOYED IN LUNCH ROOM AS A WAITER

Left No Reason for Committing Rash Deed But Was Probably Despondent or Worried Over Financial Difficulties--Body to be Brought Here.

Elmer Davidson, a former Newark man, lies dead at Detroit, Mich., having taken his own life.

The details of the tragedy are given in the following telegram to the Advocate:

Detroit, Mich., March 22.—After getting through with his work in a lunch room yesterday morning Elmer Davidson went to his room, climbed into bed, pulled the covers over his head and committed suicide by firing a thirty-eight caliber bullet into his right temple.

His body was not found until midnight last night when his landlady, Mrs. F. J. Peterquin, went to his room and found the door locked. When she forced the door open and found his body she fainted. Other roomers in the house ran to her assistance.

Courier Burgess and the police investigated the suicide this morning and found several letters addressed to Davidson from his sister, Ida, who lives at No. 38 Channell street, Newark, Ohio. Mr. Davidson came to Detroit from Newark some time ago in search of work and the best job he could find was that of a waiter in an all night lunch room. His body is at the county morgue awaiting instructions from his relatives.

No reason can be assigned for the rash deed of the young man, but it is thought he was despondent on account of not being able to secure a better position. Financial troubles also probably worried him but he had never been heard of threatening to take his life. He was always rather cheerful and a favorite with those who knew him during his residence in this city.

An Advocate reporter called on the father of the dead man, Mr. Z. R. Davidson, the well known editor of the Union Block, Franklin Bank, Hibbert & Schaus building, and other buildings.

PROFITABLE MEETING OF
CITY COUNCIL

Many Citizens Present to Ask Solons for Improvements—Resolution Authorizing Purchase of Home Manufactured Products.

Many debates and speeches made up the session of council Monday night, and the city solons were told what some people thought of them in unvarnished terms. A number of citizens from South Sixth street were present to plead their cause, the widening of the street, while iron morders were also there to inquire why orders for iron work for the use of the city were being sent out of Newark instead of being given to local concerns.

Roll call found all the councilmen in their seats ready for the evening's work and the session promised for a short time to be a short one until the various speeches came up, then the meeting was prolonged. As a result of the addresses Sixth street may be given the relief asked as soon as possible, and contractors may be required to use Newark-made products whenever possible.

OPENING JACKSON STREET.

The street committee, to whom had been referred the Jackson street matter reported that they were against the opening of the street as proposed by Service Director Taylor, who planned to open the thoroughfare 150 feet west of the present street, but they were in favor of straight street from Sprague street to the Everett property. This would mean the Jackson street would simply be extended as it is now laid out. Mr. Taylor's idea was to avoid a long crossing over Log Pond run, but the committee decided that either way the extension was made would mean the crossing of the little stream and a straight street is better than one with

Education had requested it be done in order that the children of that portion of the city could reach their school without crossing the railroad tracks and property of private citizens. He said further that Mr. Sprague and Mr. Everett were willing to donate the necessary ground as far as their property was concerned, and he thought other property owners would be willing to have the street extended. The resolution brought up a little argument, but it was passed without a negative vote.

SIDEWALK RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions by Mr. Irwin were adopted, one authorizing the laying of a sidewalk in front of the Susan B. Lougshore property on North Cedar street, the other authorizing the repair of the sidewalk in front of the property owned by E. S. and R. M. Davidson in the Grable Clifton and the Lingafelter addition.

TO PREVENT FLOODS.

According to a resolution of Mr. Prior, a committee from council, composed of Messrs. Prior, Orr and Fulton, will meet with the county commissioners in regard to the South Fork of the Licking river, which has done a great deal of damage to property in the south end of the city at time of high water. Mr. Orr has an amendment, that the West End also be included in this, passed, and an attempt will be made to prevent further flood damage. Messrs. Ferdinand Molkenpah, Gardner and Joe Staszel made short speeches to council in which they told how the work might be done, and their arguments were taken up by Mr. Baker, who said if the channel of the river was cleaned much of the trouble could be avoided, for sand had banked up and filled the water course. When put to a vote the resolution was adopted.

SIXTH STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Fathered by Mr. Fulton a resolution was passed instructing the Director of Service and the Civil Engineer to secure the names of all the property owners on South Sixth street, for some of the titles are rather obscure and the owners must be discovered so that notices can be served on them before work of widening the street is begun.

Sixth street, or "Farmer's Alley," as it was once called, came up for a lively discussion and many speeches were made by residents and councilmen. Dennis Carney, in a humorous but straightforward from the shoulder talk, told of the many campaign promises that had been made for the street improvement but they were never fulfilled and he asked that the council take action and at once on the matter. John Baird also spoke on the subject and told of the improvements that were needed and why. It was the consensus of opinion of the councilmen that the relief asked should be given, and Sixth street may yet be a real street rather than an alley before the summer is over.

MOLDERS SPEAK.

Messrs. Caldwell and Garlock of the Iron Molders' union, then addressed the city's executive body and asked why orders were sent to other cities for iron work which has been and can be made in Newark. They both said that manholes and catchbasins were made here and of better material than many now in use in Newark which were ordered by the contractors from Columbus and other places. They further said that orders were sent to other places when Newark industries could and should be patronized especially by the city in the different contractions.

Mr. Baker said that the matter had been called to his notice and that he had visited foundries in the city and found that they had molds and patterns which they had made under promise of work of this sort, and he was emphatic in his statement that the work done was just as good if not better than most of the material shipped into the city from foreign points.

"This is the first time the matter has come to my attention," Mr. Fulton said, "but I am decidedly in favor of awarding any contracts and all work to Newark people and industries." He then presented a resolution that the matter be referred to the street committee and that they take action on it. The council adjourned after all had voted favorably on the matter.

STREET DRAINED.

Mr. Fulton reported that the day following the last council meeting, Service Director Taylor had the drain ditch in the Wehrle field opened, and the water which had backed up in lots and cellars in the neighborhood was drained off without difficulty. The report was received and filed.

RETAIN PEST HOUSE.

Safety Director Rossel asked permission to address the council and said that the lease the city had on the pest house had expired and should be renewed at once. The sum of $200 a year is being paid for the building on the Second street hill, and Mr. Rossel was strong in his plea that the lease be renewed for, as he stated, it is impossible to tell when disease may break out in Newark and there should be a quarantine house. Mr. Stark had prepared a resolution to enter into a contract with William Venech, the owner of the building, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

A CHEMICAL ENGINE.

A letter from the Zanesville Chemical Engine Co. was read in which the company told of the merits of their engine when used in connection with a fire department. Fire Chief Bausch was present, and when called on he said he wasn't prepared to give an opinion on the machine. The letter was received and filed.

JACKSON STREET AGAIN.

Mr. Fulton again brought the Jackson street extension into the limelight when his resolution was read making the extension from Sprague street to St. Clair. He made a motion that the rules be suspended and that it be placed upon the second and third reading. He said the matter should be given attention, for the Board of Education had requested it be done in order that the children of that portion of the city could reach their school without crossing the railroad tracks and property of private citizens. He said further that Mr. Sprague and Mr. Everett were willing to donate the necessary ground as far as their property was concerned, and he thought other property owners would be willing to have the street extended. The resolution brought up a little argument, but it was passed without a negative vote.

Lougshore property on North Cedar street, the other authorizing the repair of the sidewalk in front of the property owned by E. S. and R. M. Sammy Trott, the Columbus Newsboy, who so successfully gave a fine exhibition of the "trotting" art in his meeting with "Shuffling" Shultz in Newark on the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 24, was recently presented with a new gold watch by the men members of his company.

The occasion was a meeting of the Auditors, and when the little boy's weight was called to the front of the stage to listen to the presentation speech, he was greeted with cheering cheers, for he is a great favorite with all who know him. After he had received his presents, some of "Speech" speech were heard. It was up to Sammy, and going down a pump which arose in the crowd, he said, "Thank you, I like you all," at which much enthusiasm was expressed, and was appreciated by the boys present.

FREE SAMPLES FOR THE HAIR

Considerable interest has been aroused in medical circles in New York City by the discovery of the tremendous hair growing properties of Oliven Uvedalia. The discovery was made by a Spanish physician on the staff of hair and scalp specialists of the famous Woodbury Institute. Oliven Uvedalia has now been added to the formula of the Woodbury's Hair and Scalp Preparations, and samples are being sent free to those interested from the laboratories. Address Woodbury Co., 47 West 44th St., New York City.

Physicians say this is the only important discovery for reviving the growth of the hair in over a century. If your hair needs stimulating, or, if you have any scalp disorder, it will be worth while to send for a free sample to the above address.

Rube Tumbler

Houston, Texas, March 22.—The late Rube—George Edward Waddell—was tumbled off the springing wagon, not once or twice, but several times.

Manager Jack O'Connor knew of two occasions that Waddell came to the hotel after retiring time in an intoxicated condition. It was too much for Jack, and he awoke Rube with the Order of the Cab.

O'Connor made three trips to Rube's room the other morning at intervals of one hour, starting at 1 a.m. Rube finally tumbled in at 5:30.

Waddell's entreaties to reform, supplemented by copious tears, won him another trial.

BUSY SESSION OF PROBATE COURT HELD BY JUDGE BRISTER

Monday afternoon Judge Brister decided two cases. One of there was in the estate of the late Elmer Haas, deceased, a well known and prominent farmer, who died at his home near Utica a year ago. Elmer Haas was supposed to be a single man and when he died he left the bulk of his property to a gentleman friend in Columbus, Ohio, a Mr. Allen Gregg. A short time ago a woman turned up who claimed to be Rose N. Haas, widow of the deceased, and said that she lived in Chicago. She filed a petition in the probate court stating that she was the widow of the deceased, and that the appraisers of the estate, which was very valuable, had refused to set aside a year's support for her. Edward Kubler, representing the legatee, filed a demurrer to the petition, stating that it did not contain facts sufficient to constitute grounds of action. Judge Brister sustained the demurrer and Mr. Fulton, took leave to amend his petition.

In the case of the late Price Glynn, Esq., a well known and well-to-do farmer, who died little over a year ago, the widow, Amanda Glynn, by her attorney, S. L. James, filed a motion in the Probate court to require the administrator with the will annexed, Mr. Edward Kubler, to pay over to the estate after settling the debts as residuary legatee for life. Mr. Kubler demurred to the petition, and the court sustained the demurrer, stating that the widow had already received her year's support and other means, and that he would not order the executor to pay over any more money at the present time, as it was only about three months until a full accounting would be had. The court further said that under all the circumstances of the case, he would require the appointment of a trustee for Mrs. Glynn, and the giving of a good bond before the legacy could be paid over.

There will be about fifteen criminal cases for trial before the criminal term of the Probate court beginning on the first Monday in April, which were principally continued over from March. No jury has been drawn for the trial of these cases yet as none has been demanded by the defendants

Common Pleas Court.

In the partition suit brought by Emma Bronson vs Joseph W. Bronson et al., the appraisers have made their report to the court of the appraisal of the property.

The next petit jury for the April term have been summoned to appear on April 25.

The court today made an assignment of civil cases for trial.

Anna I. Martin vs J. T. Kincaid et al, leave given to file answer now on file.

Anna I. Martin vs. J. T. Kincaid et al, leave given to file reply.

Elvin Jordan vs. Mark Conn, an action for damages for causing a team to run away. Defendant was riding a motor cycle which plaintiff claims frightened the team. Motion to strike from the petition certain allegations overruled. Leave to plead in 30 days.

Geo. McKeever vs. Eli Hull, et al, an action for work and labor. Motion to answer submitted in part and overruled in part.

John Grady vs. J. W. Hursey et al, an action upon a promissory note given for the purchase price of a stallion. Motions to strike out certain portions in the answers of Hursey and Bowers et al, and to separately state and number defenses, sustained in part and overruled in part.

Chas. Sinkey vs. Fayette Stadden et al, motion to make petition more definite and certain sustained in part. The plaintiff sues to recover damages on account of being deprived of certain real estate upon which he claims to have a lease.

Wesley Montgomery, receiver, etc., vs Park National Bank Plaintiff alleges that he is the receiver of Darnold & Mattocks that is prior to the appointment as receiver Darnold & Mattocks had turned certain money over to defendant bank, payment of a pre-existing indebtedness with intention to prevent the receiver and plaintiff asks to recover a sum for the money so turned over to the bank by the firm of Darnold & Mattocks, about $700. The court sustained in part and overruled in part a motion to strike from the petition certain allegations.

Wm. Sonnenburg, receiver, etc., vs Columbus Casualty Co., suit brought to recover on an insurance policy, etc. The life or plaintiff's agent. Plaintiff was directed to file a petition to certain respects.

Jesse A. Flory vs. Rickert, a suit brought to determine the title to land in the West End, involving certain property lines and the canal feeder. The court sustained the receiver's motion to strike from the petition certain allegations. A decree was entered quieting the title to the land.

The same cause of action between the same parties, etc., vs. The Co-operative Corporation, Inc., a suit to recover on a promissory note, etc., which had been filed on the 10th instant, has been set down for trial on Wednesday.

PIKE ROADS AWARDED BY COMMISSIONER

It begins to look like the movement for better roads that is reaching out over all the country will soon be felt in old Licking county, and that in the near future we will have a system of highways leading out from Newark to all parts of the county that will not only be a credit to the enterprising people of the country, but will be a credit to the state as well. The Licking county commissioners have just been notified by State Highway Commissioner Wonders that the commission has made allowance for the construction of one mile of Pike on the Old Newark and Granville road, commencing at the west corporation line of the city, near the Sharon Valley road, and also for the construction of three miles of Pike on the Wilkins Run road, commencing at the northeast corporation line of the city, near Cedar Hill cemetery. The commissioners were asked to recommend a competent engineer, and they recommended Mr. Joseph Still, one of the deputies in the office of the County Engineer Cully. It is understood that the work of improving these stretches of road will be commenced this summer and completed as rapidly as possible.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The doctor then starts on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartics, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, the next something practical and sensible, a remedy made especially to fit your case, a remedy that you can use over and over again.

Arguments will be made tomorrow in a number of the liquor tax cases now on the docket, in which the auditor and treasurer have assessed the tax upon the property of a number of saloon keepers in this city.

A number of the cases will be heard upon constitutional questions raised in the suits, and not upon evidence.

MRS. GITTER OF ZANESVILLE, O.
Writes Letter Which May Be of Great Interest to Skin Sufferers of This City.

Zanesville, Ohio, Feb. 8, 1909

My daughter suffered for more than two years with Eczema and during that time was treated by all the doctors around here receiving unsatisfactory results. Hearing that D. D. D. was a good Eczema remedy I gave it a trial and the use of the first bottle gave better results than we got from all the Prior treatment. We continued the use of D. D. D. until now her cure is complete. I can truthfully say that there is not a mark or trace of any kind on the child today and I recommend D. D. D. to any one suffering with Eczema. Very Truly Yours,

Mrs. Gitter,
1102 Marietta St.

So many convincing statements similar to the above, have been made to us privately by sufferers from aggravated skin diseases to whom we have sold the D. D. D. Prescription, that we feel bound to give it our unqualified endorsement. By special arrangement with the D. D. D. Company we can furnish anyone who has not tried the remedy with a special size bottle for 25 cents.

EXCITING CAUSES OF RHEUMATISM

Cold and Dampness Will Bring on the Disease If the Poison is in the Blood.

Although rheumatism is a disease of the blood wet, damp seasons are an exciting cause and especially are those who have had a previous attack liable to suffer from the disease at such times. This shows that the rheumatic poison was not driven from the system but was simply "kept down" by the treatment employed. When conditions favorable to the disease were met the trouble promptly reappeared.

The promise made for the tonic treatment of rheumatism is that its cures are permanent and that the patient does not have an attack of the same old trouble every year.

Mr. John W. Meek, of No. 375 17th street, Wheeling, W. Va., who is in charge of the stove department of the Hones & Herman department store, says:

"About two years ago I was suffering from chronic rheumatism and was generally run down from overwork. Every winter for twenty years before this I was afflicted with lumbago. My blood was in poor condition and my kidneys were affected. At first I had terrible pains through my shoulders and in the region of my heart. Then they settled in my left hip and leg and put me in such misery that I could hardly move. I was confined to bed for five months and did not get any sleep to speak of for seven months. I used chloroform liniment on my back and leg but this would only ease the pain. I thought that I would never be able to get up again.

"I was treated by several physicians and all said that I had chronic rheumatism. The doctors helped me for a time only and said it would be a long time before I got over the disease. I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon a neighbor's advice and soon found they were just what I needed. I took the pills for several weeks and was cured. Last winter was the first time in twenty years that I did not have an attack of lumbago or rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

AMUSEMENTSST. ELMO.

"St. Elmo," Vaughan Glaser's production of the dramatization of Augusta Evans Wilson's popular novel, comes to the Auditorium theater to-night. Edgar Lewis, an actor of ability, has the leading role, that of St. Elmo. He is ably assisted in the female role by Irene Gammell as Edna Earl. Miss Gammell is a clever actress and has appeared in many of the best productions of the country. A strong cast has been selected to support them.

The scenes are laid in the shadow of Lookout Mountain, at the home of the Murrays. St. Elmo Murray finds himself in a duel with Murray Hammond, the son of a venerable minister, and he slays him. Edna Earl, the blacksmith's daughter, appears on the scene. Although St. Elmo is truly justified in slaying the minister's son, the young girl does not understand the reason, and believes him to be murderer, but she saves him from arrest by the sheriff. St. Elmo learns to love the girl, who leads him to a reconciliation with the father of the boy he killed.

POLLY OF THE CIRCUS.

Frederic Thompson, producer of "Polly, of the Circus," is a unique figure among American "Showmen." The shop phrase is used advisedly, for the theater represents only one of the phases of Mr. Thompson's activities in the realm of entertainment. He is a showman par excellence, being the father of the summer park idea in its present extravagant and bulky form. The fact that he proudly wears pioneer honors at the comparatively early age of 36 years, augurs a wealth of originality in the Thompson brain, and his career bears out the assumption.

"Showman" Mr. Thompson is with a vengeance, and yet he is a different type from the one that the appellation usually suggests to the popular imagination. He did not get his start in life selling chocolate drops in a third rate variety house, nor did he win his spurs by shamboyan advertisement of attractions that the dear beggarly public failed to discover after paying the price of admittance.

He did not get his start in life selling chocolate drops in a third rate variety house, nor did he win his spurs by shamboyan advertisement of attractions that the dear beggarly public failed to discover after paying the price of admittance.

There are "showmen" who differ from those standard varieties; Richard Mansfield, for instance, was a thorough "showman" of the artistic stamp, and Mr. Thompson is one of the creative souls. He is a builder of shows, with the culture of an architectural education superimposed upon the instinct for catching the attention of the crowd. "Polly of the Circus" will be seen at the Auditorium theater for one performance, March 22.

OPHEUM THEATRE.

Another excellent bill opened the first half of the week at the pretty little family theatre in the Arcade. Sun & Murray are sending good acts to the Opheum and as a result are getting the business.

The first number on the program is Al Massey, comedy clarinetist and character comedian. He has a clever turn that is deserving and gets a good laugh. Lovello, ventriloquist, is undoubtedly one of the most clever persons in his line and his act is pleasing throughout. The Boston Newsboy Quartette, Harmony singers, proved a great favorite with the audiences Monday and that they are making a hit is shown by the numerous encores which they receive.

The chief feature of the bill, however, is Kessely's Marionettes, said to be the greatest automaton act in vaudeville. This should be seen to be appreciated. The curtain rises on a pretty miniature theatre with stage drapery of velvet and gold. Boxes on each side of the stage are occupied by spectators who take a great interest as the play progresses. Different figures are shown in numerous acts and the whole closes with a pretty tableau with electric light effects. Prof. Kessely, who invented the miniature circus, is a native of Berlin, Germany, and arrived in this country two weeks ago, accepting a twelve weeks' engagement with the Sun & Murray circuit. Two years ago he played eighteen months over the big circuit and returned to it after the completion of his present contract. His paraphernalia is all fire proof and the elegant costumes used are all imported. You will miss a rare treat if you fail to see this act.

This afternoon the baby show is in progress and Manager Peberg has his hands full in looking after the little ones who are participating.

MR. HAWK DIES WHILE SITTING ON DOOR STEP

Central Avenue Resident, Suddenly Seized With Heart Failure at His Home.

Sitting on the door step of his home, 269 Central avenue, John Hawk gasped and died, while his horrified wife looked helplessly at him, realizing that he was dying, but unable to help him in any way. Dr. P. H. Cosner was called at once, but before he could reach the home in his automobile Mr. Hawk was dead.

Mr. Hawk has been in ill health for several months past, but recently he has been working at the Heisey glass factory. However, he went to a house on Hoover street this morning and trimmed some grape vines. After eating his dinner he went into the garden to do some work and was accompanied by his wife.

Suddenly he was seized with a heart attack and handing the spade to his wife, he said he would have to rest a minute, and going to the door step he sat down, gasped a few times and died.

The deceased was 55 years of age and is survived by his wife. He was quite well known in Newark and his sudden death occasioned much surprise and regret among his friends.
